These accounts exist only on the review server. They never work on the live system, and no real WhatsApp messages, emails or card payments are sent: payments go to a test page where you choose approve or decline. The review server uses plain HTTP (no padlock), so never enter a real password or real member details on it. Please do not share the review password outside the staff.

1. Looking after the review server

The server runs by itself and restarts after a reboot. For the person managing it, in PuTTY as root:

To...	Run this
Check it is running	systemctl status elite-review
Restart it	systemctl restart elite-review
See portal sign-in codes and errors (Ctrl+C to stop)	journalctl -u elite-review -f
Get the latest version	sudo -u elite -H sh -c 'cd ~/elite-review && git pull -q && sh backend/scripts/review_setup.sh' then systemctl restart elite-review
Change the review password	Edit REVIEW_PASSWORD in /home/elite/elite-review/.env.staging, run the update line above, then restart

9. Add a staff member and give access

As ceo@test.elite.local or ops@test.elite.local (Systems & IT can manage access too):

Step	What to do
1	Open http://169.58.13.213:8090/en/desk/payroll/staff/ (menu: Staff & access) and click Add a staff member
2	Fill in name (English and Arabic), work email (this is their sign-in), mobile, job title, employment type, main branch and who they report to
3	Optionally give a role straight away: choose the role, the branch (or All branches) and a reason
4	Click Add staff member. Their page opens with a one-time password: it is shown only once, so note it and give it to the person with their email
5	They sign in at http://169.58.13.213:8090/en/desk/ and must choose their own password
6	To change access later: open their page, Give a role (role, branch, start date, reason) or End a role (they are signed out at once). Reset password creates a new one-time password

Rules: nobody changes their own access; you can only give roles whose powers you hold yourself (for example, the Operations Manager cannot make someone CEO); a Branch Admin role can be limited to one branch; every change is recorded with who, when and why. Filters on the staff list show people by role, by branch, or with no access yet.
